Biography:

Natalie Glebova is a best-selling author, mindset & energy coach, and a former Miss Universe. Through her own extensive spiritual journey to attain self-love and deeper self-awareness, Natalie started a coaching practice that focuses on energetic aspects of personal development to help her clients become winners in both life and love.

Specializing in using healing and transformational approaches and modalities from all parts of the world, Natalie helps her clients achieve deeper and longer-lasting levels of inner peace and happiness.

Her compassionate teaching style combined with her extensive expertise in energy-healing techniques and plant medicines gives her the unique ability to combine ancient spiritual practices with modern-day understanding of the intricate workings of the mind. Which is why those who are on a transformation journey are naturally drawn to Natalie, as she is known to teach those she works with and those who read her books the steps they need to take to advance their personal development from a holistic perspective.

As a recognized thought leader in the space, Natalie's masterclasses, books, and social media messages on spiritual growth reach an international audience of over one million people.

Natalie will be teaching how to handle Pageant Interview!
